Selecting lines rather than collecting them

We are pleased to introduce the newest members of our line card:

- Bel is an industry leader in the design and manufacture of high quality DC/DC converters, transformers and connector modules, fuses and delay lines for applications in networking, telecommunications, consumer electronics, automotive as well as other industries.
- OakGrigsby was acquired by Electroswitch in June 2003 expanding the company's product offering with encoders, solenoids, open frame rotary switches and speciality products.
- Raychem Wire & Tubing and Identification Products, a division of Tyco Electronics, is the leading supplier of heat-shrinkable tubing, electrical interconnect, wire & cable, and identification products.
- Signal Transformer, part of Bel, is the leading supplier of off-the-shelf 50-60 Hz transformers, components and inductors. They offer a wide variety of both printed-circuit (PC) and chassis-mounted versions as well as having the capability of designing custom transformers to meet your needs.
